Charity receives funding windfall from councillor

Volunteers and staff at REACH Community Projects in Haverhill have had mental health training thanks to a donation from one of the town's councillors.

The training, run by Suffolk Mind, was made possible by a £1,450 donation from the locality budget of Cllr Andrew Martin, who represents Haverhill West on West Suffolk Council.

He said: "I was delighted to be able to make this donation. The work carried out by volunteers and staff at REACH makes a huge positive difference to those members of our community who are in most need.

"I am extremely grateful for their continued hard work, compassion and empathy.

"The mental health training will allow volunteers and staff to provide additional support to service users."
